

An Australasian Virology Mini Symposium

Advancing Knowledge, Protecting People

19th May 2024 from 12.50 pm to 5.00 pm
Institute for Glycomics, Griffith University

Keynote speakers:

Prof Rowena Bull (UNSW Sydney)

Prof Linfa Wang (Duke-NUS Medical School)

Prof Paul Young (University of Queensland)

Please join us for an exciting Mini-Symposium that brings together both seasoned and EMCR scientists to showcase the latest advancements and breakthroughs from the Australasian region.

The half day symposium will be held on Sunday afternoon, 19th May, just before the commencement of the 37th International Conference on Antiviral Research (ICAR).

Most importantly, the symposium is FREE and provides great networking opportunities including a social Australian BBQ to round up the day.
